Daily Hoover Hint

The December issue of the Mother's Magazine has a number of tested recipes which have been submitted to the Food Administration and approved by Herbert Hoover. The following recipe is given for potato nests:

Two tablespoonfuls oleomargarine
One teaspoonful salt
One cupful milk
Eggs
Boiled potatoes

Boil potatoes and put them through a ricer; add two tablespoonfuls oleomargarine, one cupful milk, one teaspoonful salt, beaten together until light. Put in a greased baking dish in the form of nests, and in each nest carefully drop one egg. Cover with cracker crumbs and dots of oleomargarine. Bake in a slow oven for twenty minutes. As soon as the eggs begin to set, sprinkle with grated cheese.
